

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A mobile sleeping unit transportable from site to site by tractor-trailer, railway, airlift, or by water includes a tractor-trailer unit modified to create a sleeping unit for a number of individuals. The sleeping unit can be in a number of different configurations that includes sleeping bunks attachable to a sidewall of the unit for opening up the interior of the unit when the bunks are not in use, and a storage/kitchen area that can include storage drawers, a countertop, a refrigerator, a microwave oven, wall-hung storage cabinets, water coolers, and other common food preparation items.